Saweria

Trakteer

And of course, if you're outside

GitHub Sponsors

PayPal

Frequently-Asked Questions

1. How will you use these donations?

These donations will be used to fund both development and operational costs (web hosting, cloud computing, etc.) for some of my projects, notably BINUS Today, my own version of tldr-pages bot, and of course, prOxy (the Telegram chatbot)!

Some projects which already have an enough source of revenue (e.g. subscriptions) will no longer be funded by these donations. However, it is possible to request me access to paid/premium features in exchange of donations as long as I know who's donating as well as account details. I'll discuss about these opportunities in the future.

Additionally, due to the Indonesian legal status quo of cryptocurrency transactions outside the purpose of investments, I'm also planning to use these funds to give back to open-source projects which I have used for both my life and projects, through cryptocurrencies or not. And tithes, too.

2. Are these donations tax-deductible or exempt?

These platforms currently do not impose any (Indonesian) tax for received donations. However,

3. Is or will there be transparency reports for received donations?

I'm planning for it. And I might disclose them over GitHub or GitLab for the sake of transparency.
